BULLION SHIPMENTS.

Barber sounded the whistle for the first time, and as its cchoes reverberated through the surrounding hills, every one felt that it was the harbinger of better days for Bullionville—the sure indica-tion of the immense increase of business that the completion of the railroad system which is to traverse our State in every direction (of which the road from Pioche to Bullionville is the forerunner) must center in our midst. The energetic manner in which the changes and repairs on the road are being prosecuted assures us that ere long the welcome rattle of the cars as they pass with their freights will be a matter of daily occurrence.

A MEAN BRUTE AND A PERSECUTED BRUTE.-A fellow-and he is the mean brute—yesterday allowed a pack mule—which is the persecuted brute—to stand all day in the sun, down on lower Main street, with a heavy pack on his back. The owner of the poor animal, in the meantime, was oblivious from the effects of tarantula juice. He ought to be treated exactly as be treated that mule—made to stand all day in the hot sun with a sack of flour strapped to his shoulders. of flour strapped to his shoulders.

OUR GREAT MINING ENTERPRISES. The Conpany that Owns Twenty-six

Day before yesterday we pa'd another visit to Highland Mining District, which is only five or six miles distant, and joins Ely District on the west. The fact that the Mendha Company will soon have their fine new mill in operation makes Highland, at the present time, the center of much interest. Having before referred to the Mendha Company's prop' erty and operations at length, we this time went to inspect the mines of the High land Mill and Mining Company, one of the wealthiest corporations on the coast, and under the official management of gentlemen well-known for energy, integrity and financial responsibility, J. N. Williams being the President. The company being organized to develop mines, and not to speculate in stock, bought up twenty-six of the most promising ledges in the district before entering upon extensive development, having determined to make the enterprise successful if there were paying ores in the district. And now, after having made two trips to Highland, each time, note-book in hand, personally inspecting the mines, we feel safe in saying—by which we mean that we believe our judgment will be vindicated by future developments—that it will prove one of the first bullion producing districts of the Silver State.

On alighting we were met by Mr. George W. Malone, one of the pioneer miners of E.y. District, Superintendent of the developments of the Mill, and Minuse Company and extensions inter-Mining Company, and extensively inter-exted in its property interests, who ac-companied as to the various mines in-spected. Out of the 26 ledges owned by the corporation we found time to visit 14,

HAMBURG. This mine is situated on the west side of Arizona Mountain, about a mile north-east of the Mendha mill. It is developed by a tunnel 200 feet in, and a shaft 40 by a tunnel 200 feet in, and a shaft feet deep. The tunnel is the finest piece of mining engineering we ever examined in the county, being five feet wide at the bottom, 6% feet high, and it goes into the mountain as straight as an arrow. 175 feet from the mouth a drift is run to quartz seams and vein matter, showing that the main deposit is near at hand, and may be opened any blast. But the tunnel being intended to develop a number of mines, the proximity of the ledge is not regarded in its construction. It will be extended right on through the heart of Arizona Mountain. The main shaft goes down on the ledge (which dips but slightly to the north) 311 feet northeast of the mouth of the tunnel, breaking ground 125 feet above the tunnel level. It is now down 40 feet, the ore from top to bottom all being high grade, and varying in width from 16 to 24 inches. We have before us the assay or's certificates of samples got at different depths from the bottom as follows: $65 98; $279 04; $375 20; $211 17; $220 67. The vein has been widening the last five feet of excavation and is 22 inches strong at the bottom of the shaft,

The discovery shaft of the Mississippi is just west and near the crest of Arizona Mountain. The vein exposed is 3½ feet wide, and the ore is extraordinarily rich, the assays generally running over $1,000 to the ton, and never falling below $50. But the developments, so far, are not en-couraging. The vein, the first few feet it is followed by the shaft, (which might coarsing. The tens, and Miss Carrie will vary and enliven the performances with some of her choicest ballads.

A GYNERAL RISE.—As will be seen by referring to yesterday's stock quotations, the tendency of nearly all the Phoche stocks is upward. There are monied men here willing to buy entire mines at the figures the stock calls for; the Pioche stocks have been absurdly low a long while, and must come up and stay up above the provailing figures.

Coarsing. The tens, (which might with propriety be called a tunnel,) runs in horizontally, lying almost flat, and then it begins to gradually assume a downward dip to the north, the same as the Hamburg. The ore maintains its stocks is upward. There are monied men here willing to buy entire mines at the figures the stock calls for; the Pioche stocks have been absurdly low a long while, and must come up and stay up above the provailing figures.

Coarsing. The tens, (which might with employers be called a tunnel,) runs in horizontally, lying almost flat, and then it begins to gradually assume a downward dip to the north, the same as the Hamburg. The ore maintains its average richness wherever found, but it from the surface, until it contracts to a mere seam. But the Mississippi is on a continuous vein which is plainly traced by actual development; none of the value of the mines is proved by actual development; none of the value of the mines is proved by actual development; none of the value of the mines is proved by actual development; none of the value of the mines at their stock on the market until t up above the prevailing figures.

Good Condition.—The Salt Lake and Hamilton stage roads running out of this city are said to be in fine condition. The coaches on both lines are coming in on the Meadow Valley mine, entertains high expectation of its future. Should the vein be disclosed below with its sur-face extent and richness, it would cer-tainly be "one of the biggest things in the mountains;" and much might be said to show that it will be, but theorizing is not describing and such speculations. to show that it will be, but theorizing is not describing, and such speculations would be out of place in this report. The Hamburg tunnel was started as much for the development of the Mississippi as the Hamburg, and will be pushed shead until it intersects the Mississippi—if the vein is below to be intersected—at a point nearly 500 feet below the surface. Should the Mississippi "be caught" by the tunnel as favorably as it shows at the surface, it cartainly would be worth a surface, it certainly would be worth a cool million or more. We can only hope that Mr. Maloue's expectations will be

THE BLACKFOOT.

This is a vein of enormous extent, being from 4 to 10 feet in width. Its croppings are very heavy, and may be traced for 1,000 feet, solid ore masses weighing several hundred pounds jutting out at points. It is situated on the southeast end of Silver Mountain, about two miles a little west of north from the Highland mill. The main shaft is now down 25 REMOVAL.—The wholesale and retail liquor store of Alex. Brown has been removed from the house above the State Bank of Nevada to his new block on the East side of Main street, just below Lacour, where he will be pleased to meet old customers and new ones.

THE KEID.

This, so far as developed, shows itself to be a very rich, but narrow, vein, the pay ore not being over 12 inches with matter, or the distance between the walls, averages two feet. It is situated on the south side of Silver Mountain, and about a mile from the Medha mill. We know more reasons with the pay of the particulars when responsible to the advertisement in another column of the Brooks Sewing Machises indeed a valuable invention, a first-class swing machine for five dollars.

dreds. Average width b-tw-en the wails, 4 feet; average width of mineral, 2) feet. A tunnel is being run in to cut the ledge a great distance below the surface; it is now in 80 feet, and will be pushed ahead with all vigor. It is of the same dimensions as the Hamburg tunnel. The crompings of the Georgia are very The croppings of the Georgia are very bold, and may be traced fully 900 feet. We believe we never examined a ledge more promising at the same stage of de-velopment. The Georgia is undoubtedly

THE HOWARTH is a ledge of modest showing now, but may improve as development progresses. The vein is nowhere over 10 inches wide, but what there is of it is solid mineral, out what there is of it is sold mineral, and very rich. It is an old location, having been discovered in the spring of 1869. The ore is of the smelting class, much of it being pure galena. Three tons, smelted in Eureka as a test, yielded tons, smelled in Eureka as a test, yielded $148 to the ton. It is on the north side of Arizona Mountain, and dips to the northeast. The walls are as smooth and regular as we ever examined. The How-arth may develop into an important mine, but we have more confidence in a number of other ledges owned by the company. is 400 feet above the Howarth, and runs parallel with it. Ore of the same class, though not quite so rich, and the vein is wider than the Howarth. Development not sufficient to form opinious.

THE BENGAL TIGER a quarter of a mile northwest of the Phil. Sheridan, is on line with it, and carries the same class of ore; but we consider it a much more promising vein. The main shaft, it is tone, is not down far, but the well can be traced agreat distance by the croppings, and it has nowhere showed a less width than 4 feet, and the walls are good. Assays not high, but

THE LEWISTON CITY carries more iron and less lead than any carries more iron and less lead than any other vein we examined on the northern side of Arizona Mountain. It can be traced 1,000 feet by the croppings, has an average width of 4 feet in the main shaft, and the walls are smooth and regular. The assays run from $7 to $40 to the ton. We like the indications of the Lewiston City very much. THE LINCOLN runs parallel with the Lewiston City, is equally well defined, assays about the same, and goes down nearly straight; but the vein, so far, is impracticably nar-row, nowhere showing over 13 inches in the shaft; but the heavy and long line of croppings seem to give promise of important developments in the Lincoln.

is not far from the Lincoln, and shows the same general character of ore; but it is much more promising. The croppings can be traced by the eye for 1,200 feet, and the vein in discovery shaft exposes an averaged width of 4½ feet. It is situ-ated on the north side of and well up on Arizona Mountain.

THE WAR RAGLE

is on the extreme cast end of Arizona Mountain. The vein is fully 4 feet in width wherever exposed and ore is of the "free milling class." The average of a number of assays is $16 to the ton. Creppings heavy and traceable for 800 feet. Walls very favorable. The dip is to the northwest. The War Eagle, notwithstanding the low average assay, we consider a promising mine. THE POCAHONTAS is on the northeast point of Arizona Mountain. The vein is 2), feet wide, and ore very similar to that of the War Eagle. Dips to the northwest. The walls are well defined, and the vein can be traced 1,200 feet by the croppings. THE YELLOW JACKET.

THE YELLOW JACKET.

This is the company's extreme western location, being a mile west of the Mendha hoisting works. It is right on line with the Mendha, Lee, Hamburg and Mississippi, and there is no doubt that they are all one and the same lode, as the croppings are almost continuous from the Hamburg on the east to the Lee on the west.

The above are the ledges personally visited, and the description of each was written on the ground. Of those not visited Mr. Malone mentioned the Cali-than $2 a siner, and all sales and purchases have been confined to members of the corporation. If the Mendha mill proves a success, the company will im-mediately creet a mill of the same model; but the failure of the Mendha enterprise but the failure of the Mendha enterprise of which we have no apprehension would not discourage the Highland Company. The holders of the stock, knowing the silver is in the ore, and, being strong financially, will, if necessary, follow failures with new trials, until success is achieved. But we believe Highland district, within sixty days, will prove itself to be one of the richest silver minitself to be one of the richest silver mining camps in Nevada.

The Highland Mill and Mining Company have secured a most eligible mill-site, having wood and water in abund-

FINE STOCK RANGES.-We never saw better stock ranges in the spring anywhere and we have been over about all the great herding grounds from Montana to Texas—than there are along the foot-hills from four to seven miles west of Pioche. The bunch grass, thriving from the moisture afforded by the recently melted show, covers the ground in rank luxuriance. But it must wither and per-ish in mid-summer from aridity. What a glorious country we would have if a great river flowed through it!

NEW ASSESSMENT,- The assessment of fifty cents on the share levied by the Pioche Phenix Company has been rescinded, and a new assessment of one dollar levied. This is authoritative. The official notice will appear in the RECORD in a few days. The managers of the Pioche Phenix are determined to extricate it from its embarrassments and continue development with all energy.

AN INDIAN BADLY USED UP .- A settler

MUDDLED.-The following item is going the rounds of the newspapers "Around Pioche they have bored down three of four hundred feet without finding any water, but they think as soon as they get a little way surther down they shall find some." A well has been sunk over three bundred feet, in a plain north of the city, without finding water, but many think quite a volume of water would be reached by going a little deeper. An artesian well company is being organ-ized, and the first work done will be to ized, and the first work done will be to put machinery over that shaft and bore down to water; after which the most suitable spot will be selected to com-mence boring from the surface. Gentle-men of long experience in boring for water are confident the enterprise will be crowned with success. crowned with success.

GROVE SALOON.-Messrs. Judson & Cox, the proprietors, have given this appropriate name to one of the mo t pleasant resorts in Pioche. It is on Lower Main street, opposite Boone & Dolman's Main street, opposite Boone & Dolman's stables, and is almost concealed from view by the little forest of pines, cottonwood, quaking asp and cedar which has been successfully transplanted ground it on all sides. They have at hand every luxury and pleasure for their patrons. A leading feature of the Grove is a lofty double swing, constructed for the accommodation of two couples. It is both safe and novel in construction. It is a pleasant evening walk from the business portion of the city to the Grove, and we advise our friends to give Messrs, Judson & Cox, the enterprising proprietors, a call.

RAFFLE. - Don't forget the raffle at Russ, Scott's Palace Club Rooms this evening. A splendid cluster diamond ring is to be raffled for. We have been permitted to examine the ring, and from the sparkle and lustre of the stones we should pronounce them of the purest water and of great value. The raffle takes place at 8 o'clock.

WE hear it remarked that times are improving in Pioche, but we fear "the proving in Pioche, but we fear "the wish is father to the thought," as there SITUATED ON McCANNON ST. are fewer men engaged in our mines now than at any previous time for months. We believe the good time so long pre-dicted is not far shead, however.

INTERNAL REVENUE. - Deputy Collector of United States Internal Revenue, J. W. Wright, gives notice in our advertising columns, this morning, that the law governing the same will be strictly en-forced. Those interested will examine for themselves.

ARRIVAL OF SALT .- Ed. Gillon's oxtrain arrived yesterday from the north with a load of salt for the Raymond & Ely Company's mill at Bullionville. The salt is from the salt marsh up in the Snake range. Hop.-There will be a social bop at Pioneer Hall, on Meadow Valley street, on Thursday evening, May 8th. Let all who want to enjoy a pleasant evening, be sure to attend. A young man down in Bullionville, out of health and employment, wants to act as a substitute for some pensioner of the war of 1812. CHANGE OF TIME. - By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that the time table on the Central Pacific Rail-road has been changed slightly.
